Year 7 football!

The Year 7 football team continued their season with two tough games against Hayling College and Purbrook on Thursday evening. In the first game against Hayling College, only a goal-line block from captain Matthew prevented us from falling behind before the break. Despite having the ability to rotate players and keep our energy levels high, the pressure being applied from Hayling was too great towards the end of the game, with us conceding late goals. A much stronger performance in the second game against Purbrook, saw us become more competitive and grow in confidence. With Kian, Morgan, Alex and Ellis applying more pressure in defence, coupled with some more direct counter attacking from Stanley and Harvey, we were able to carve out a goal. Despite the elation, we were unable to hang on, losing narrowly again. If anyone wants to watch what resilience looks like, come and watch these boys play!

Well done lads!

Team: Stanley, Harvey, Ellis, Connor, Toby, Regen, Morgan, Matthew, Kian, Alex

Year 7 Netball

The Year 7 netball team attended their first lot of matches Wednesday evening.

The girls played 3 games, 2 vs TPS (The Petersfield School) and a 3rd Vs Oaklands. The girls played some fantastic netball, working together as a team encouraging and supporting each other throughout all 3 games.

The first game against TPS B saw Warblington hold off a strong attacking side in the first half, the defence made up of Ella, Daisy and Everlyn prevented TPS from scoring more than one. 1-1 at half time. In the second half TPS managed to break through our defence and score 3 more, final score 4-1 to TPS. In our second game against TPS A the girls fought hard to slow down the play and prevented many scoring opportunities, unfortunately TPS had the upper hand and won 7-0.

In the final game against Oaklands, Warblington held their own going 1-0 up early in the first half scored from Lucy. Bethany, Honey and Emilia worked hard for Warblington playing the ball round the Oaklands player in to the attacking third. Oaklands managed to score 1 just before the half time whistle. 1-1 at half time. In the second half both sides very evenly matched work the ball beautifully, Oaklands with a lucky attack saw a second go in the net. Final score 2-1 to Oaklands.

Team: Bethany M, Lucy S, Daisy B, Ella B, Everlyn S, Honey R and Emilia R.

Attendance Matters!

Being in school every day that it is open is important for your child's achievement, well being and their wider development.

When you register your child at school, you have a legal duty to ensure your child attends school regularly.

This means that your child must attend every day that the school is open, unless there is a valid reason, such as your child is too ill, you have been given permission due to exceptional circumstances or you are taking part in a religious observance.

It is not acceptable for a child to miss school for reasons such as it is their birthday, you are shopping for uniform, a sibling's school closure, leave taking during term time. For more guidance on this please visit Back to school week – Everything you need to know about school attendance - The Education Hub \(blog.gov.uk\)

Please do not hesitate to contact me or the Pastoral team if you wish to discuss your child's attendance or have any queries.

Mrs Timson

Attendance Officer

What Parents & Carers Need to Know about SMART TVs

Smart TVs connect to the internet without the need for a set-top box or streaming device, letting users access a range of features through the TV set itself: from on-demand content apps like BBC iPlayer to streaming services such as Netflix, as well connecting to smartphones and other wireless devices. Most new televisions are internet enabled – so whether you're thinking of upgrading your home viewing system or buying an additional TV for your child's room, it's now even more important to consider the online safety aspects.

WHAT ARE THE RISKS?

AGE-INAPPROPRIATE CONTENT

From Netflix to Disney+ to Prime Video, there is a plethora of streaming services available. While these services offer content catering for younger viewers, they also provide material for more mature audiences. If you don't have parental controls set up on your accounts, your child could find themselves being exposed to shows and movies with adult themes, strong language and violence.

CENSORED

INCREASED SCREEN TIME

The array of content available through smart TVs could lead to your child spending excessive amounts of time in front of the screen. Not only can prolonged screen time distract from important activities such as schoolwork or exercise, but experts have also warned that endless hours in front of the box can lead to health problems including obesity, poor sleeping patterns and depression.

REMOTE-CONTROL RETAIL

Like many online devices, smart TVs facilitate digital purchases: buying a new app or the latest season of a favourite show, for example. If your child has access to a bank card and isn't restricted by spending controls on the system, they could run up a sizeable bill through a smart TV fairly quickly – especially if they're not quite old enough to fully appreciate the value of money.

UNCONVINCING SECURITY

As Internet of Things (IoT) devices, smart TVs can be uniquely vulnerable to attack. Experts warn that internet-enabled TVs tend not to support high-level security software, so you won't always be able to download strong antivirus programmes like you would on a phone or computer. Being targeted by hackers could be deeply upsetting for your child, as well as putting their personal data at risk.

A SILENT SPY?

Some smart TVs already collect data on users' viewing habits and then display targeted advertising based on that personal information – while there have also been reports of internet-enabled TVs (and the apps installed on them) being used to 'eavesdrop' on owners. In models with a built-in microphone (for voice activation), third parties could potentially listen in on someone's home life.

CONTACT FROM STRANGERS

Many smart TVs can be used for web browsing, social media and live streaming – all of which could allow unknown users to contact your child (or vice versa). If your child engages with these functions of the TV, a stranger could potentially discover their contact information and potentially then use it to obtain even more sensitive personal details, such as your home address.

Advice for Parents & Carers

MAKE IT A FAMILY THING

Family TV time is a great way to model the responsible enjoyment of technology – showing your child how to use the smart TV safely for when they're old enough to watch it independently. You could also take this opportunity to establish some healthy TV boundaries, such as time limits on their daily viewing or how to make sure they're only watching content that's appropriate for their age.

SET UP PARENTAL CONTROLS

It's likely that your smart TV has built-in parental controls, which not only let you filter out age-inappropriate shows, movies and games but can also restrict in-app purchasing, so your child can't accidentally spend money through the device. When you've enabled these safeguards, have an open conversation with your child about the reasons, helping them to understand the potential risks.

CREATE CHILD PROFILES

Much like with smartphones and tablets, apps can be downloaded onto smart TVs: from free content platforms such as BBC iPlayer to paid-for services like Prime Video. Most of these apps allow you to create a separate account for your child which has different settings to your own – suggesting more child-friendly material and reducing the possibility of them viewing explicit content.

CONSIDER THE LOCATION

If you're concerned about the online safety hazards that a smart TV might pose to your child, you could consider where in your home you put the device. The safest option would be to place the smart TV in a shared family space – so that an adult is usually nearby and able to supervise while your child's watching it – rather than in the relative privacy of a bedroom.
